

Ebola Update: 1 December 2014

- According to the World Health Organization (WHO), only 23% of Ebola cases are being isolated in Liberia and 40% in Sierra Leone and neither country has enough burial teams to reach the United Nations' goal of safely burying 70% of the dead.
- Doctors Without Borders (Médecins Sans Frontières or MSF) will open a new treatment center in Freetown, the capital of Sierra Leone, within the next two weeks. Ebola is raging in Sierra Leone and is set to surpass Liberia in the number of cases in the coming days.
- Mali's President, Ibrahim Boubacar Keita, declared his country free of Ebola on Saturday. The last remaining case has been resolved and no one is currently under treatment though 285 people who had contact with those infected are being monitored.
